This is a pricey wine that meets the challenge of such a big ask. Celebrating its 40th anniversary in this vintage, the Cipriana 2018 Bolgheri Superiore San Martino is mostly Cabernet Sauvignon amplified by a smaller part Petit Verdot. The vines are planted in the lower flat part of the appellation with a mix of sand and clay soils. You get a lot of bold intensity here with rich black fruit, dried plum, toasted cinnamon, sticky vanilla stick and even a hint of fragrant aniseed. There's a lot to appreciate on the bouquet. To celebrate this anniversary vintage, the estate made the decision to hold back the wine for one extra year of bottle age. This is a 6,000-bottle production.
